

Premier Prizm Solutions - Official Press Release

Marlton, NJ

April 2014

Premier Prizm Solutions, LLC and Prizm Solutions in Medical Management, Inc. (PPS), headquartered in Marlton, New Jersey, are pleased to announce the appointment of Linda Diekmann, RN, BA, CCP-CPC, the original founder of Prizm Solutions in Medical Management, as the PPS Group's Chairman and President. Through Diekmann's buy-out of Michael Kennedy and Neil Herbst, she is now PPS's sole shareholder. Through this change in management structure and ownership, Diekmann wants to position the PPS Group as the foremost medical management services provider and technology product development group in the personal injury and automobile insurance sector. In achieving this objective, Diekmann said: "This restructuring is not simply an at the top change, but also a companywide initiative where all services and technology product development functions are now located and executed in the Marlton location, with the full interaction of all key departmental managers. This will include the further enhancement of PPS's proprietary "Nextrum" technology."

This restructuring will be based upon preserving and enhancing the existing high quality of the PPS Group's medical management services and products, and preserving the already existing personalized client service contacts which clients have come to know and trust using the same methods. PPS continues to maintain our high regarded Doctor Panel and relationships in the Insurance Industry.

Clients, please feel free to contact your PPS Account Manager with any comments or questions, or any enhancements to our services and products which you require.

About Linda Diekmann

Diekmann earned her Bachelor's in Psychology from Rutgers University and then went on to attend Virginia Community College, where she earned her degree in Nursing. Her career as a Registered Nurse included clinical oversight in cardiac care units, as well as positions in home care. Diekmann's clinical education, training and experience provided her with the opportunity to engage in utilization review and medical management services. During her over 30 years of experience, she earned certifications in utilization review (CPUR) and utilization management (CPUM), as well as a certification in professional coding (CPC) and a certified coding professional (CCP).

Diekmann's unique background and hands-on professional experience has resulted in her exceptional skills for the development and implementation of state-of-the-art customer service initiatives, workflow analysis, staffing and training models, Quality Assurance programs and medical management software for Premier Prizm Solutions. Today, Diekmann is widely regarded as one of the foremost leaders and innovators in the automobile insurance claims industry. She is also two-time winner of the Annual Success Award from the Small Business Association for utilization of technology to improve efficiencies and workflow processes.

In December 2013, Diekmann was interviewed on a special edition of the Executive Leaders Radio show, titled "What a Woman CEO Brings to the Table". This program featured four senior executives of companies in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware. The program is designed to show the human side of a top executive and their success due to passion, pride, integrity and hard work.
